

- Why is the Pentagon showing a 40-year-old film?
- What's going on in the Suburbs of Paris today?
- Why should we be concerned by events in the Arab World and Europe?
 - What's the linkage between home, homeland and Diasporas?

The Battle of Algiers: Then and Now

Tuesday, November 15, 2005. 6:10pm (Sharp)
SSB, Room # 1400
University of Michigan, Dearborn

Post-Screening Roundtable Discussion With:

AHMAD RAHMAN

*Assistant Professor of African American and African History
*Long-time scholar/activist

RABAB ABDULHADI

*Director, Center for Arab American
Studies and Assoc. Prof. of Sociology
*New Century Scholar

STEPHANE SPOIDEN

*Director, International Studies
*Associate Professor of French

JOE LUNN

*Associate Professor of African and Modern European History
*Specialist in French Colonialism

ERIC BOCKSTAEEL

*Associate Professor of Literature and Journalism, Wayne State University
*President of the International
Association of Residents of the Cite,
Universitaire of Paris (1960-61)

LINA BEYDOUN

*Department of Interdisciplinary
Studies, Wayne State University
*Dissertation: "Citizenship Status of Lebanese Immigrant Entrepreneurs in Sierra Leone"

Moderated by:

GLORIA HOUSE

*Associate Professor of Humanities and African and African American Studies, University of Michigan - Dearborn
*Civil Rights Activist

For more information, contact the Center for Arab American Studies.
Please RSVP by November 14, 2005 at caasumd@umd.umich.edu or at (313) 583-6334.