

Lecturer in Chemistry

The Department of Natural Sciences of the University of Michigan-Dearborn invites applications for a Lecturer in Chemistry position beginning in September 2009. Candidates must have a minimum of a Masters Degree in Chemistry; preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience. The successful candidate will be expected to teach in the general chemistry sequence. Additional responsibilities include designing chemistry demonstrations and assisting faculty in setting up and conducting demonstrations. Pending qualifications, an opportunity to teach in upper division courses is possible. Send resume, a statement of teaching philosophy, and names of three references to: Chemistry Lecturer Search Secretary, Department of Natural Sciences, University of Michigan-Dearborn, 4901 Evergreen Rd., Dearborn, MI 48128. Review of applications will begin November 17, 2008. UM-Dearborn, a regional campus of the University of Michigan system, has an enrollment of 8,600 primarily undergraduate students. The Chemistry program is approved by the ACS. For more information see <http://www.casl.umd.umich.edu/naturalsciences>. The University of Michigan-Dearborn is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. The University Michigan-Dearborn is an equal-opportunity employer.